DETAILED ACTION

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 16-19, 21-25 and 32-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rosie (US 6961963).

Rosie teaches the invention as claimed including a firefighter's helmet (10) comprising an inner protective shell (120) having an outer layer of impact-resisting plastics (14) and an inner-impact-resisting layer (note lining as indicated in column 4, lines 50-54), the inner shell being wearable on its own when the user is attending an incident other than a structural fire, and an outer shell (160) adapted to fit over the inner shell and to be retained thereon, the outer shell being more extensive than the inner shell so as to protect the user against structural firefighting risks, and being configured to be fitted to and removed from the inner shell by the user whilst wearing the inner shell. Note the retaining mechanism (70) which has as first latched position and a second unlatched position. Note the accessory element (140).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 20 and 26-31 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
